We are undertaking a few topics this term, including Climate Change & Natural Disasters and our STEM focus day which will be focusing on 'Biological Systems'.

LITERACY & ENGLISH

Your child is currently reading their benchmarked book and during this time the children will continue to focus on answering literal, evaluative and inferential questions, and they will also develop their skills within scanning, skimming, and summarising. In the new year, your child will read an age-appropriate version of 'Macbeth' by William Shakespeare, as part of the class book study. In addition, your child will focus on exposition and explanation genres within writing and use their developing skills to take part in a class debate on 'Climate Change'.

If you have any questions, please do not hesitate to contact me.

Kind Regards
